April 24, 2027; Doors open at 5:00pm, show beings at 6:00pm

FASHION. EXPRESSION. COMMUNITY.

A curated evening celebrating fashion, creativity, inclusion, expression and community, while bringing together local business leaders, creatives, influencers, designers, performers and supporters. Everyone together in one room, all with one goal-to make a difference!

At Byrdhouse Productions, we exist to create meaningful, beautifully executed events where people feel celebrated, welcomed, and fully seen. We want creativity and a feeling of belonging to be at the heart of every experience, and leave a lasting impression. Byrdhouse also values relationships with local vendors and organizations that can strengthen the communities they serve.

This event will have 150-200 local members of the community, leaders, entrepreneurs, and a potential social media presence that can put your organization on the map for the area. Not only will the community be in attendance, but there will be designers and models alike that can benefit from your organization. This is not only a runway experience, but with Beyond the Runway, we want to add the additional benefit of being able to network through supporters and vendors in a community that isn't often represented through many of these opportunities.

Will you be the one to help bridge that gap in the community? Does your organization or business want to be brand recognized by a group of local leaders and members of the community?

This event is cherished by Byrdhouse Productions for the place it holds in making a difference in the lives of others, so we ask for your support in supporting creativity, connecting with an engaged local audience, and being a part of something bigger than advertising-all while helping support the Home for Hope in Raleigh. A portion of the night's proceeds will go the Home for Hope in Raleigh to help support their ongoing mission.
